Short reasoning:

Kristián Csach is a very well-known and respected scientist throughout Europe, whom I have known for around 20 years. I had the opportunity to observe his outstanding scientific career during this period. Mr. Csach has organized numerous conferences in which scientists from many European countries took part. Mr. Csach has also published extensively in English and contributed to the further development of European civil and corporate law. Ultimately, Mr. Csach is perceived at the European level as one of the rising stars of Eastern European law. I therefore strongly support the appointment of Mr. Csach as professor.
